Edited by KERI THOMAS, Clinical Lead for the National Gold Standards Framework Centre, Honorary Professor in End of Life Care, University of Birmingham, UK, Royal College of General Practitioners Clinical Champion in End of Life Care, and Clinical Director for Omega, the National Association of End of Life Care, UK, and BEN LOBO, National Clinical Lead for Advance Decisions to Refuse Treatment; Medical Director; and Consultant Physician and Community Geriatrician, Derbyshire Community Health Service, Derbyshire County PCT, UK

- The first comprehensive overview of Advance Care Planning in the UK
- Contains a worldwide perspective of Advance Care Planning from a range of international contributors
- Contains a foreword by Professor Mike Richards CBE, National Clinical Director for Cancer at the Department of Health

Advance Care Planning (ACP) is an essential part of care for people nearing the end of life, as affirmed in the NHS National End of Life Care Strategy and its implementation across the UK. Through discussion and planning of care with patients, their families and carers, a better quality of life can be achieved in the final stage, and a greater chance of 'a good death' at the end. This book helps readers explore a wide range of issues and practicalities in providing Advance Care Planning for their patients nearing the end of life.

Advance Care Planning in End of Life Care takes a comprehensive and international look at the subject of ACP, frames the purpose, process, and outcomes, and includes contributions from experts across the world. It is an invaluable resource for all clinicians involved in the developing area of advance care planning and end of life care, and will be of interest to palliative care specialists, GPs, geriatricians, community nurses, social workers, commissioners of services, policy leads, patients and carers, and others interested in improving end of life care in their area.
